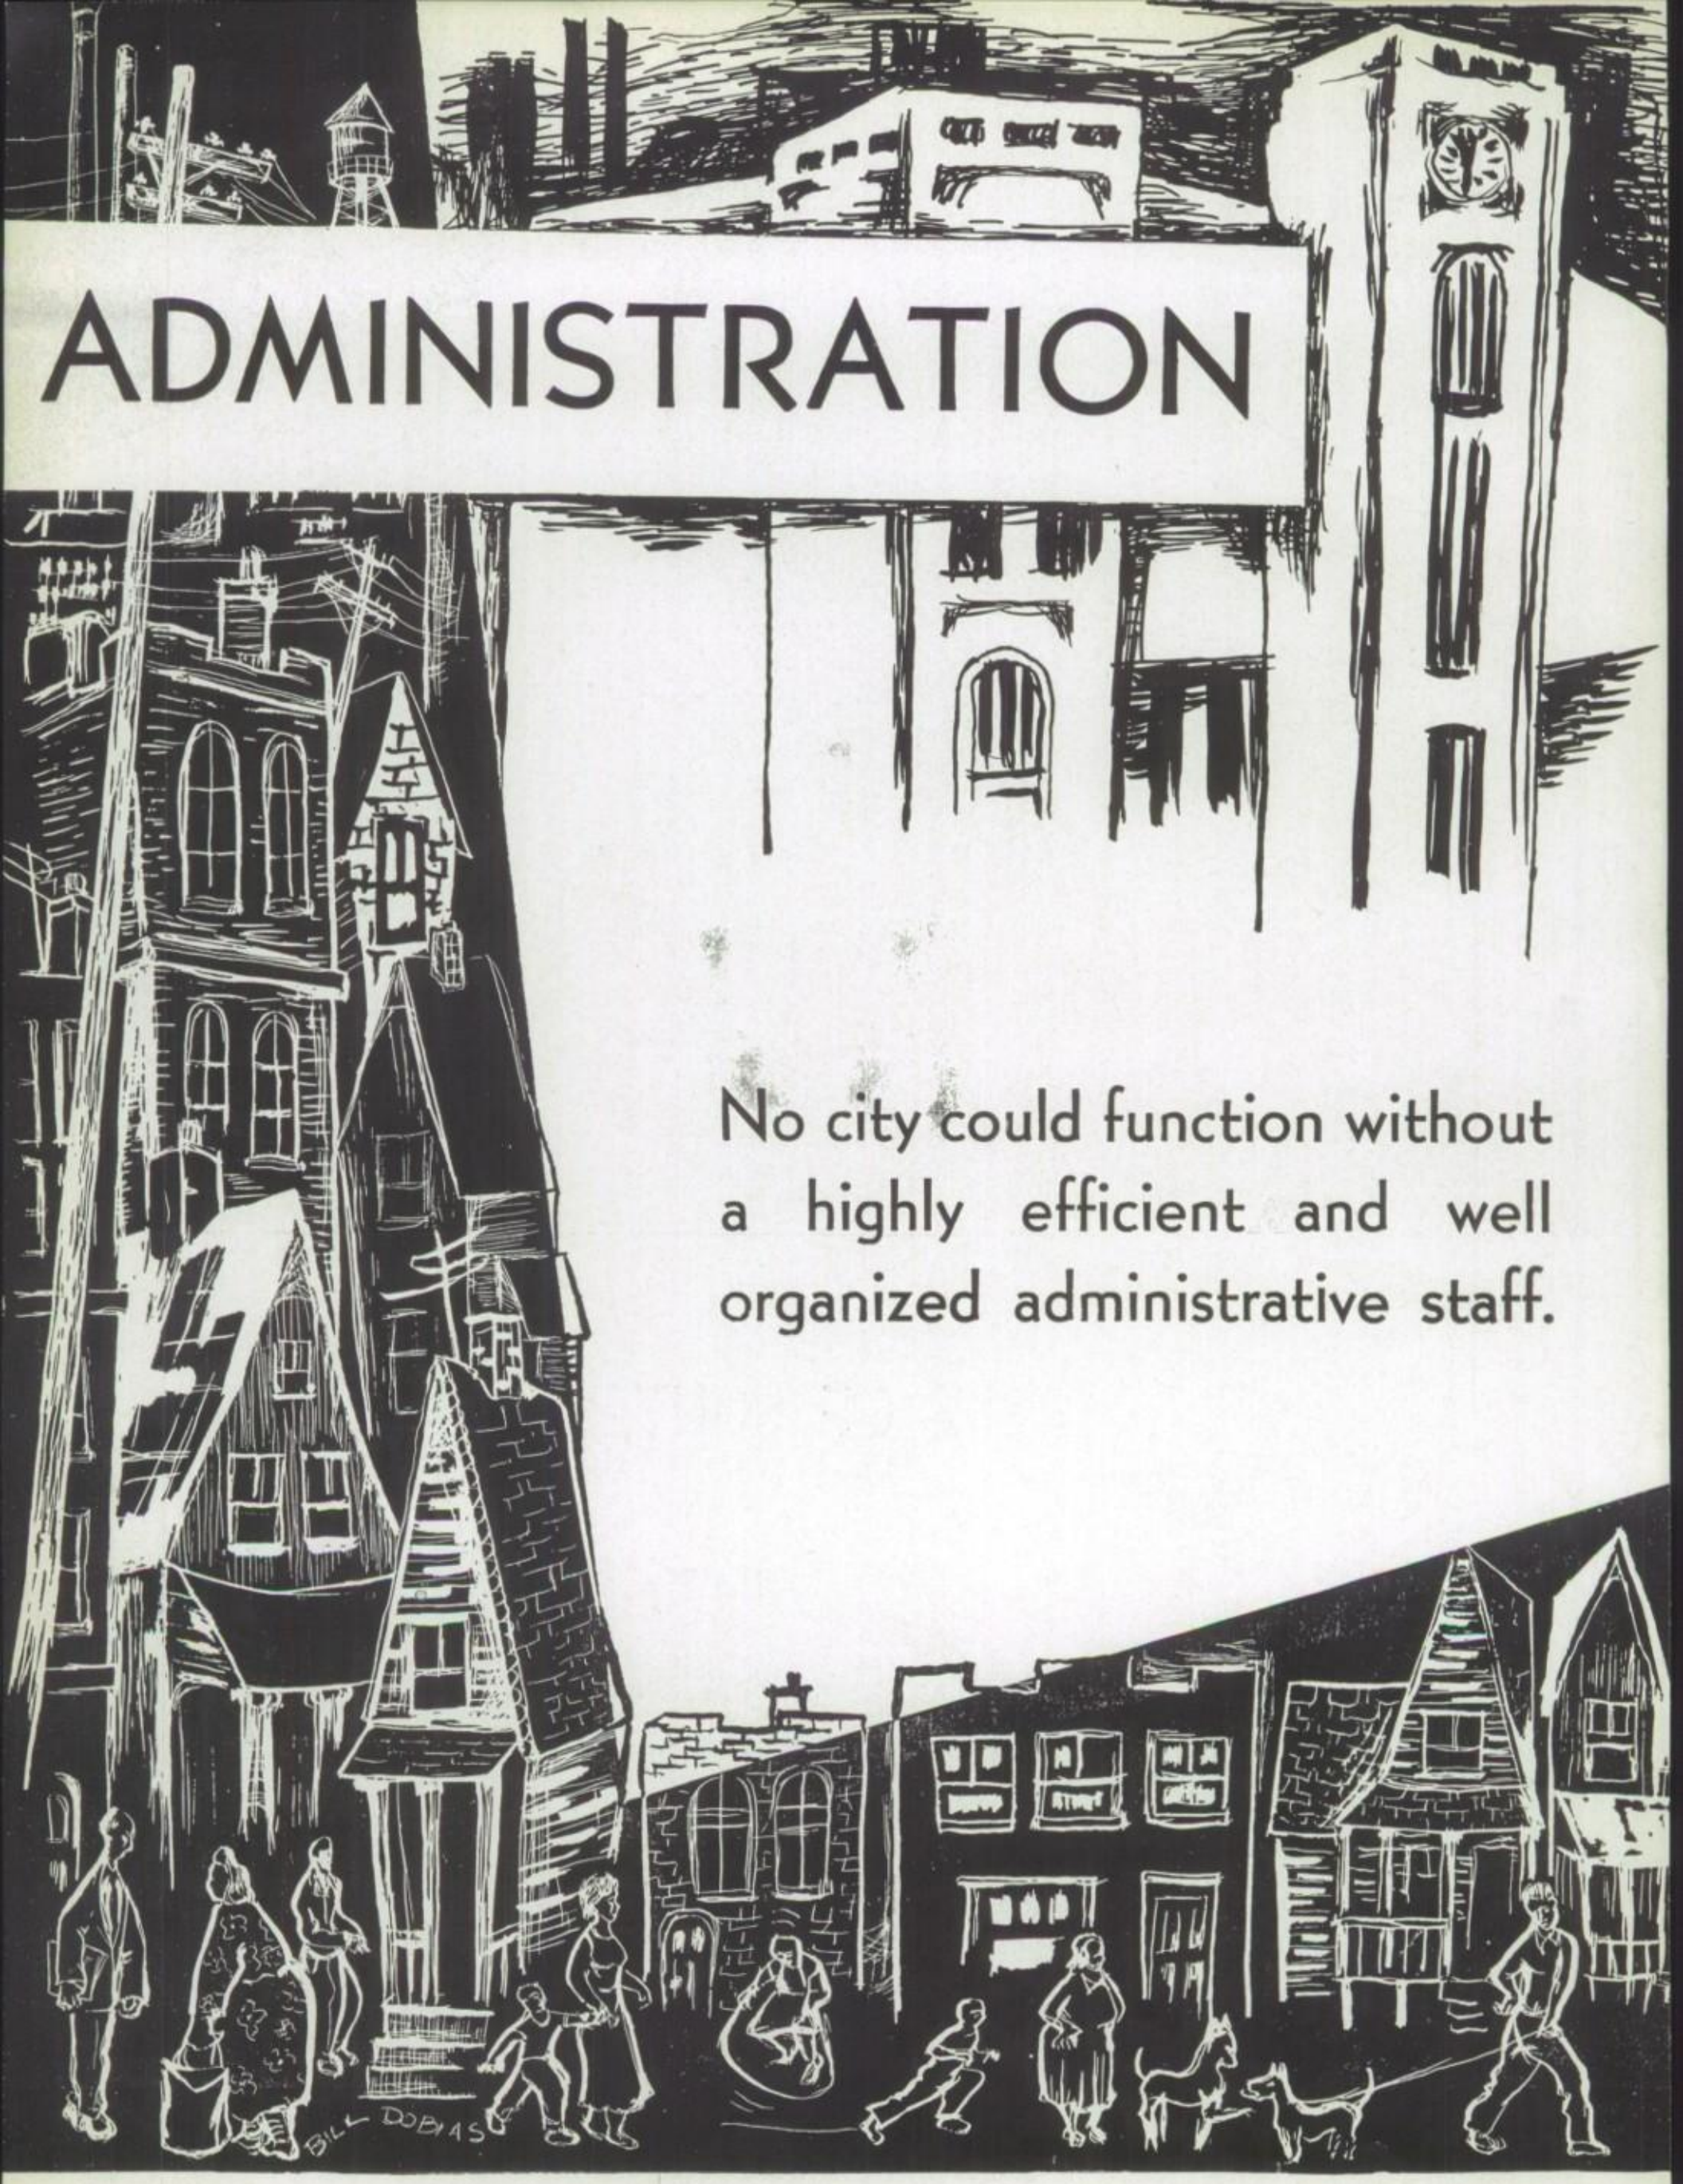
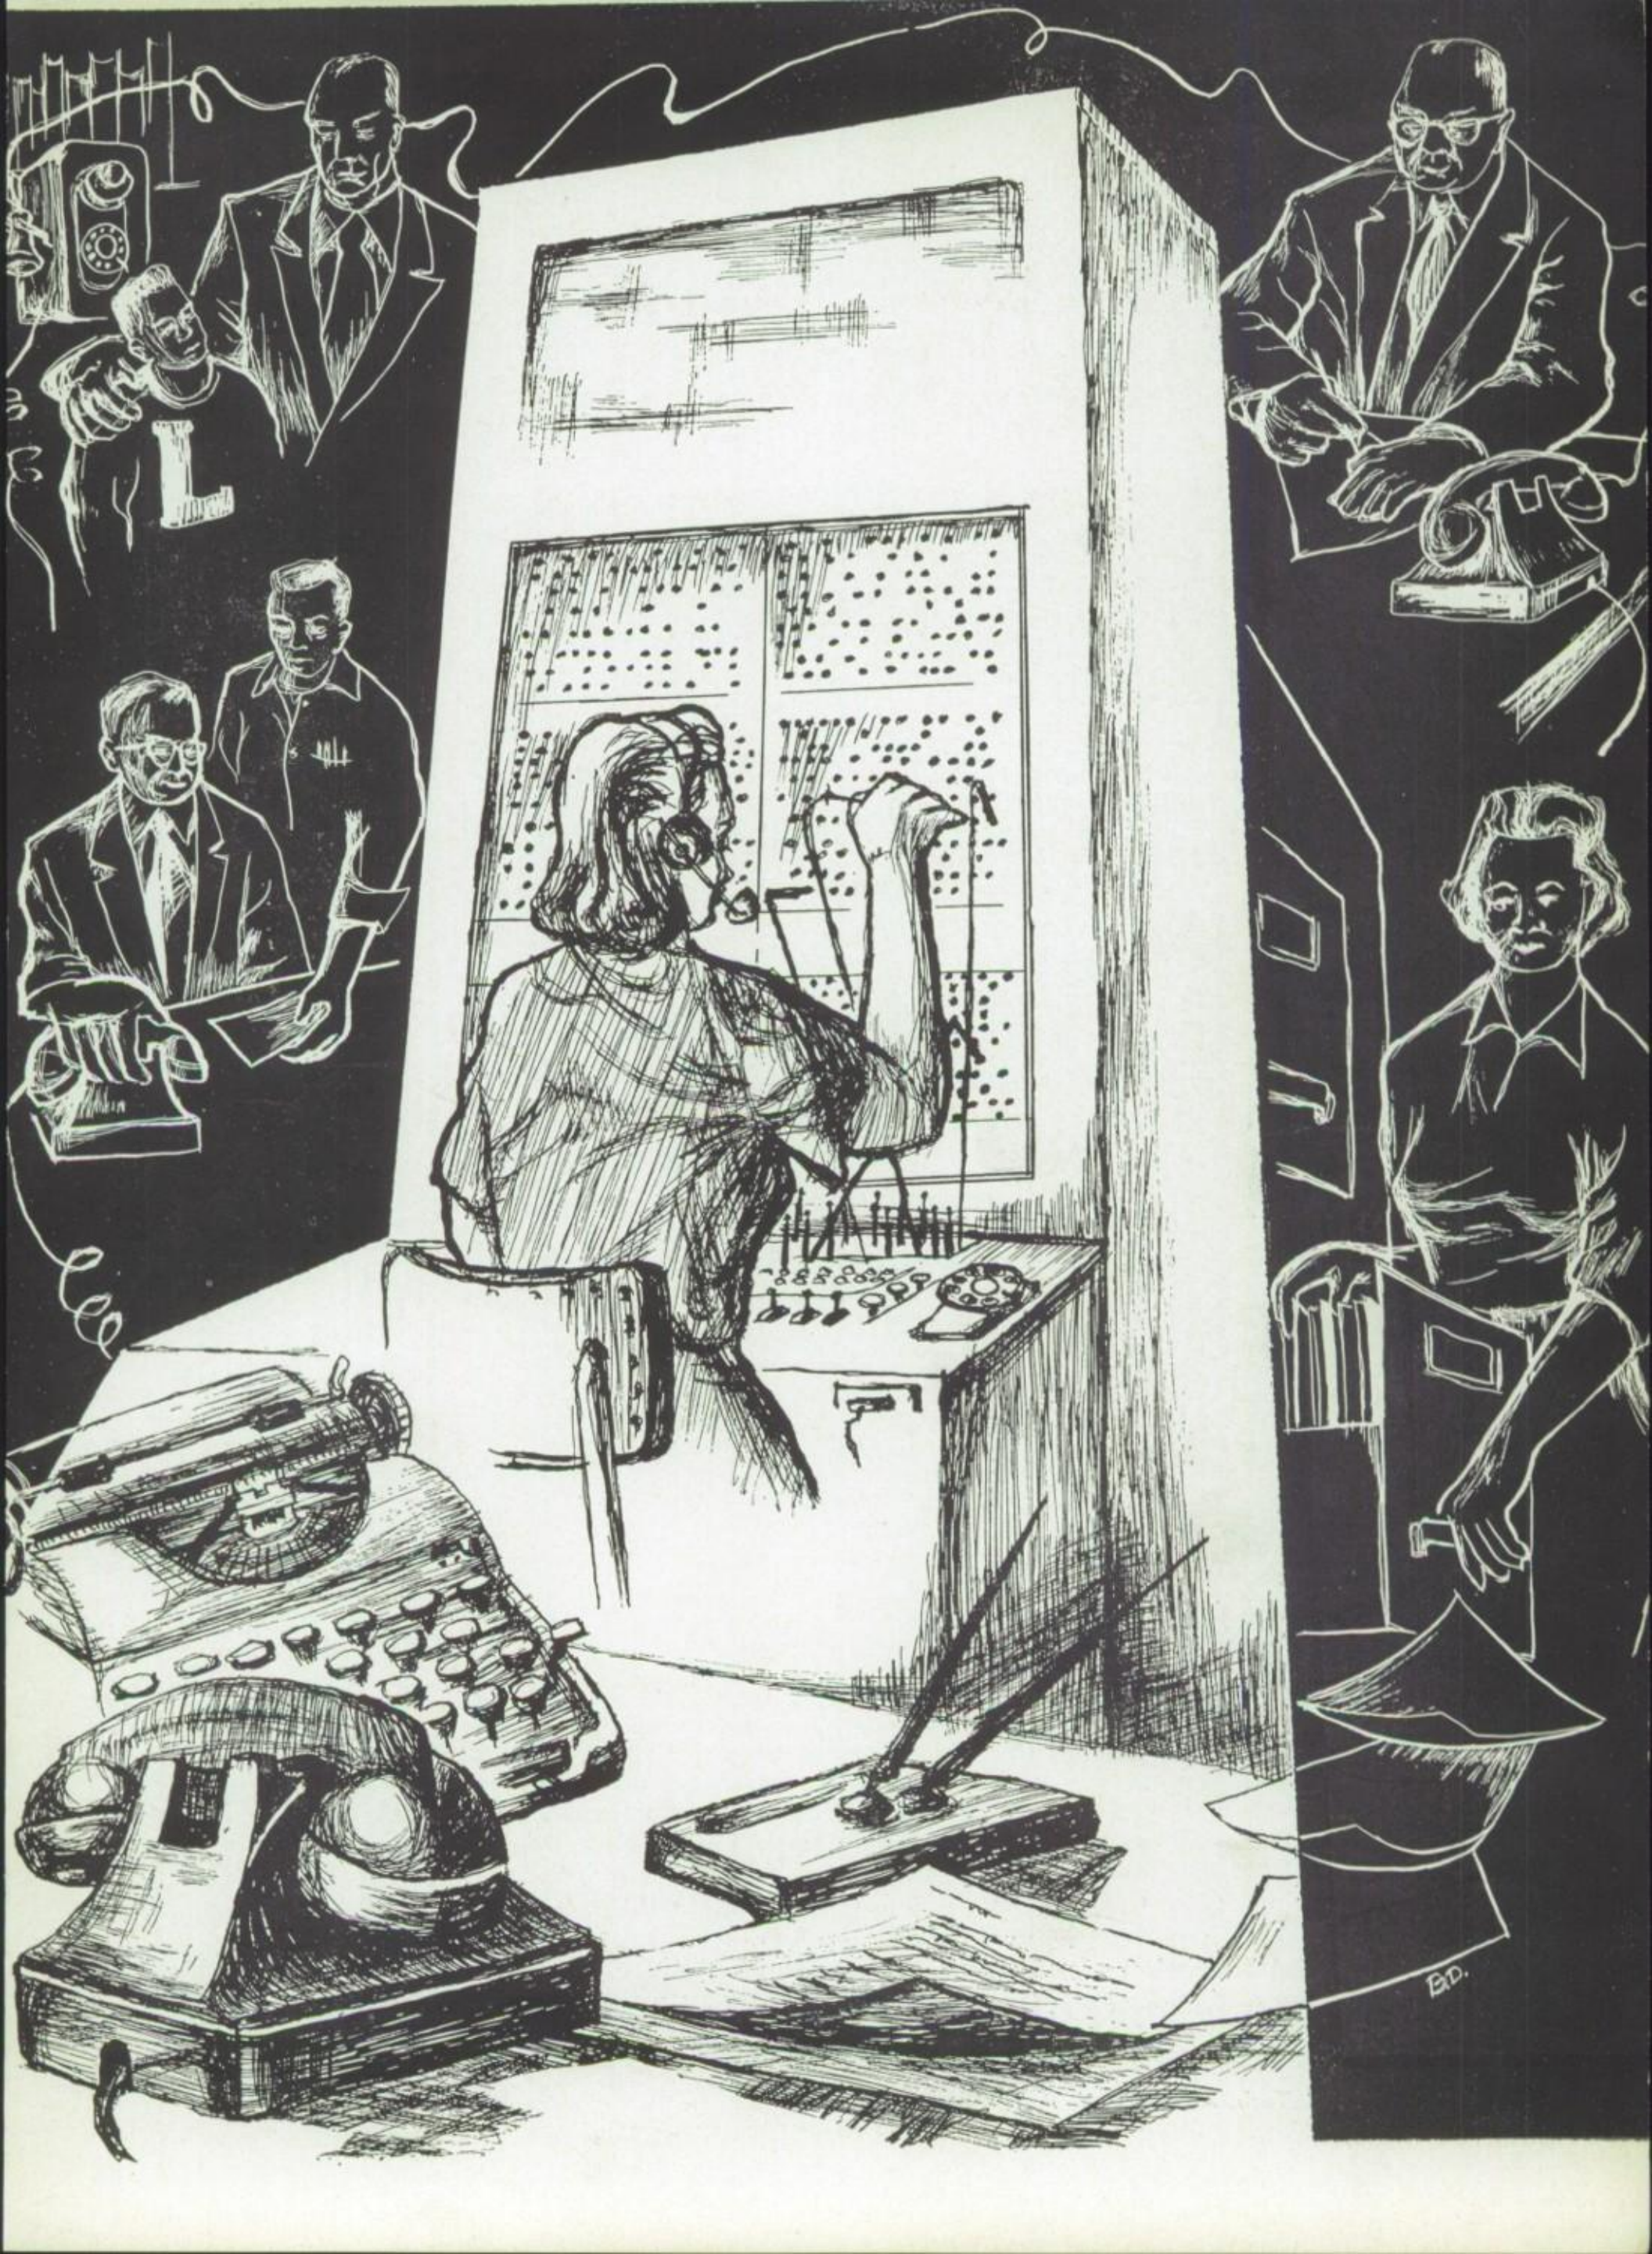
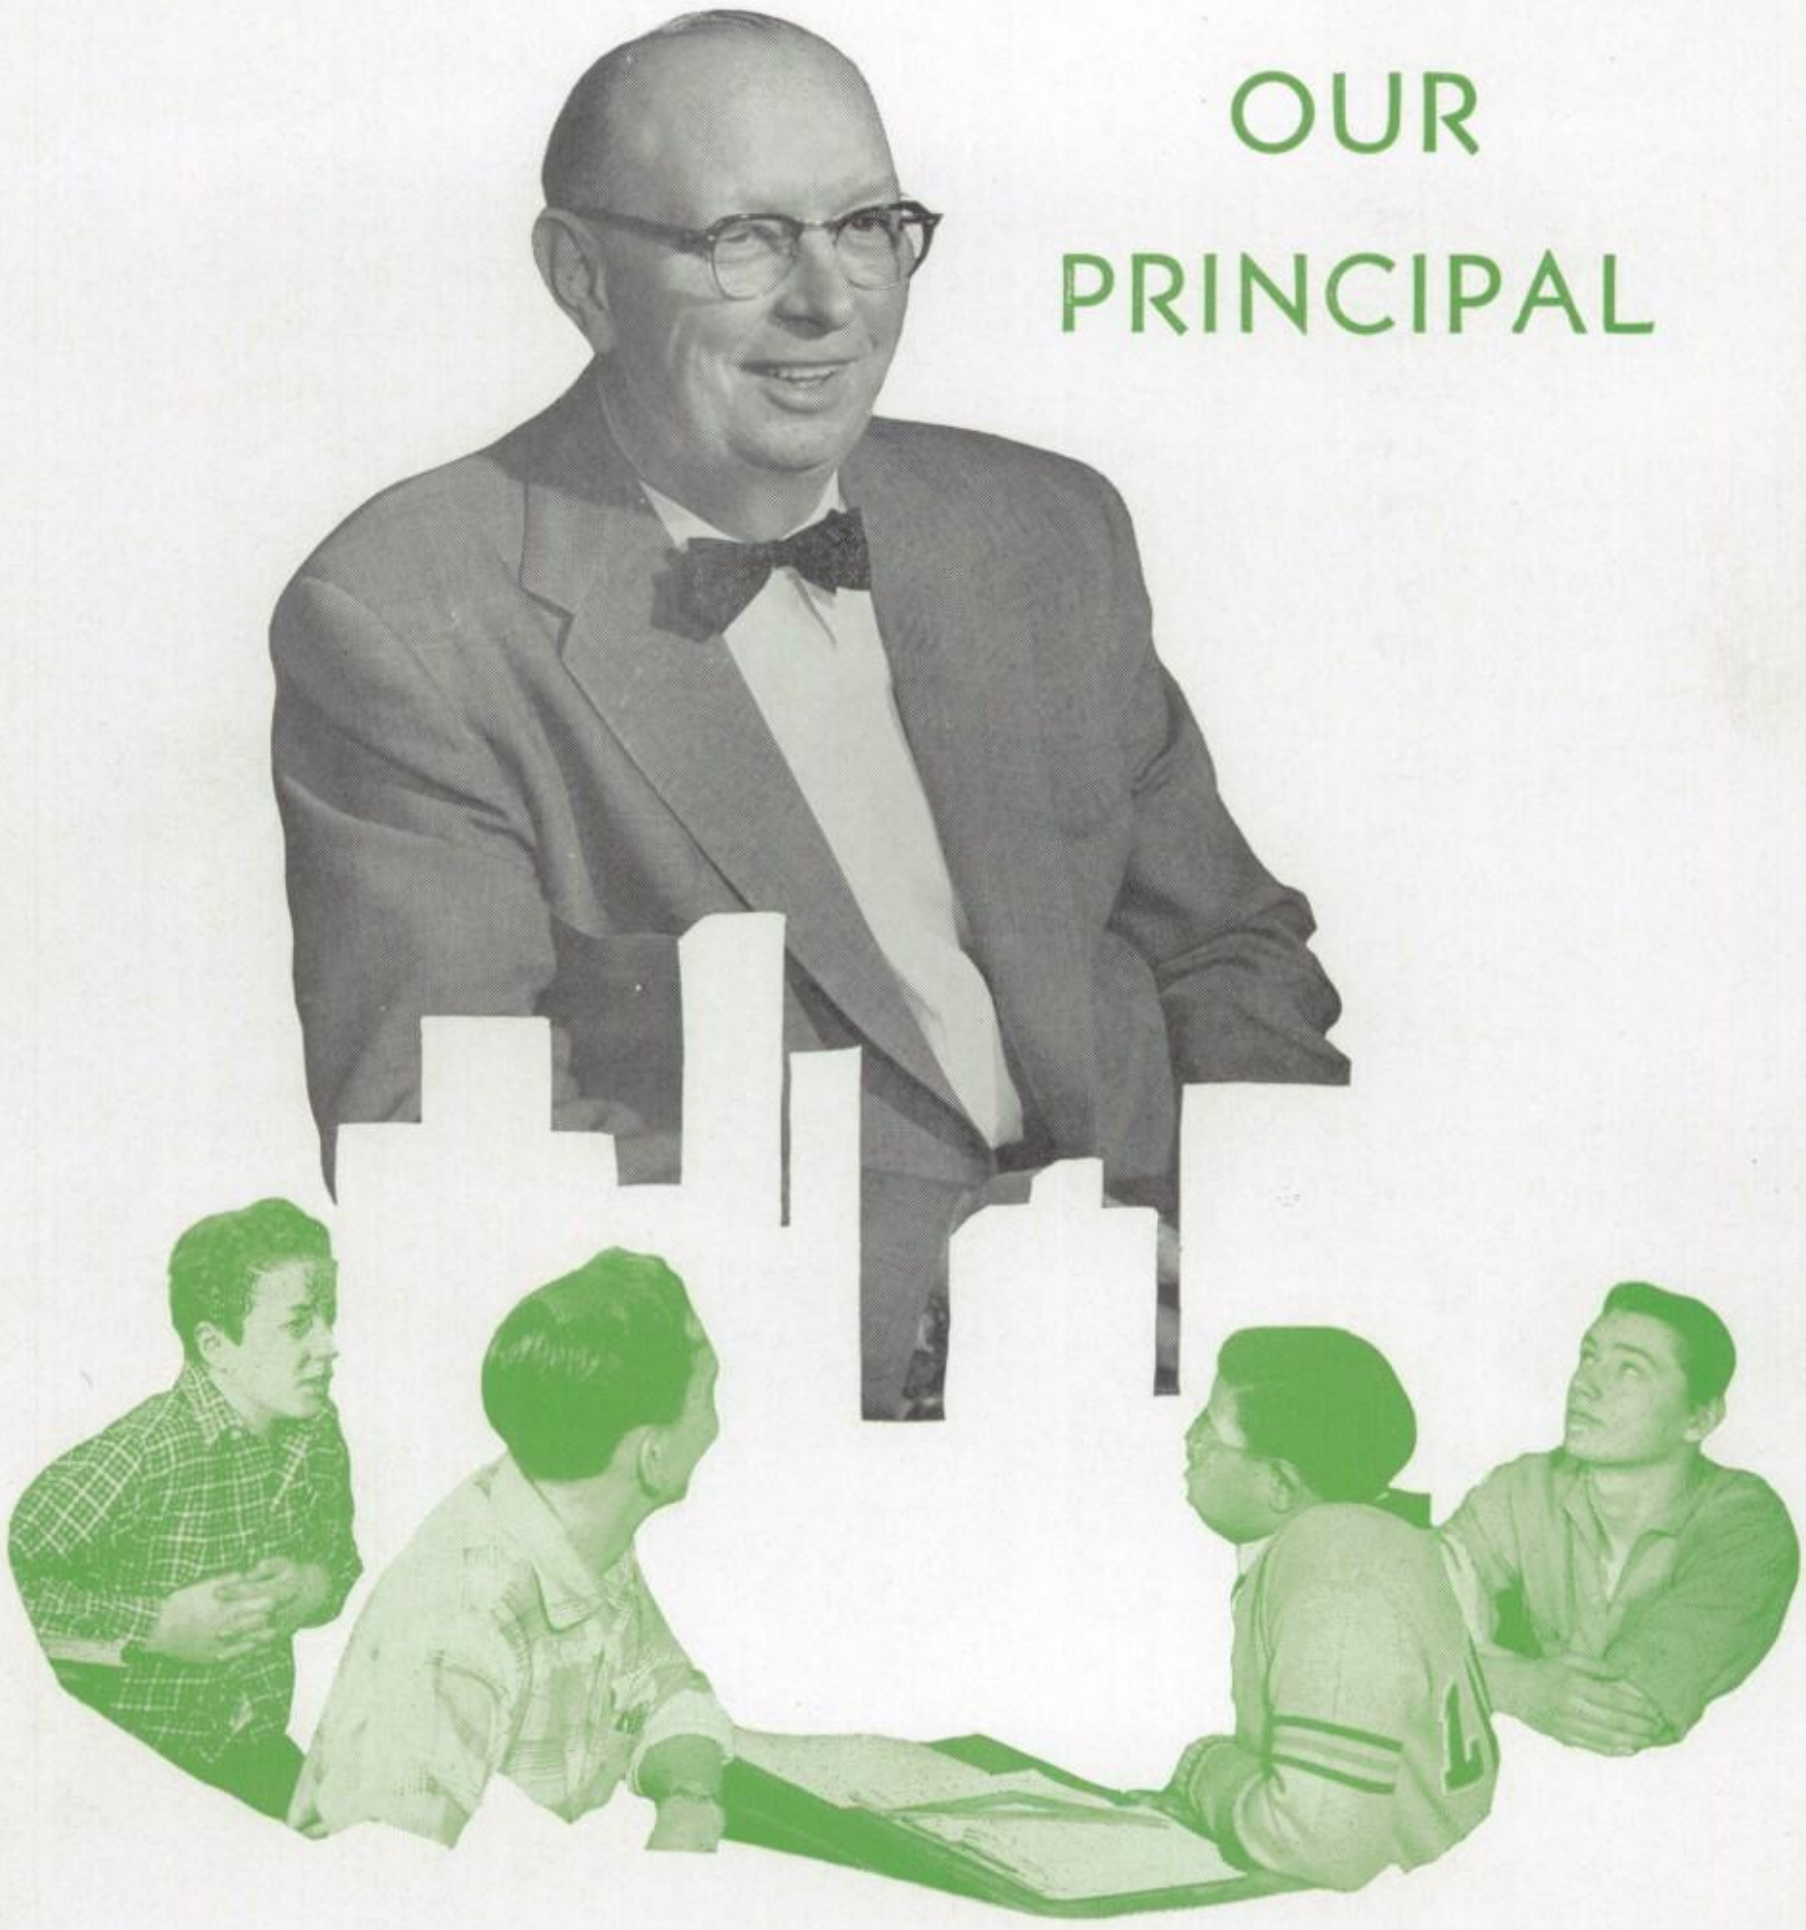
ADMINISTRATION



No city could function without a highly efficient and well organized administrative staff.



OUR PRINCIPAL



DR. O'MARA, the hearty, friendly mayor of our great metropolis, directs the many varied activities of Lane not just from his desk, but via personal contact, direct and active participation. On any school project or problem Dr. O'Mara may be consulted, and always will he proffer the very best of advice, given with sincere personal concern.

Pupils and teachers have learned that Dr. O'Mara's headquarters are always open, and that they are welcome to the benefits of consultation and discussion with this most cordial and stimulating personality.

Surely one of the reasons Lane has reached its present peak is the leadership of Dr. O'Mara.

CITY WITHIN A CITY

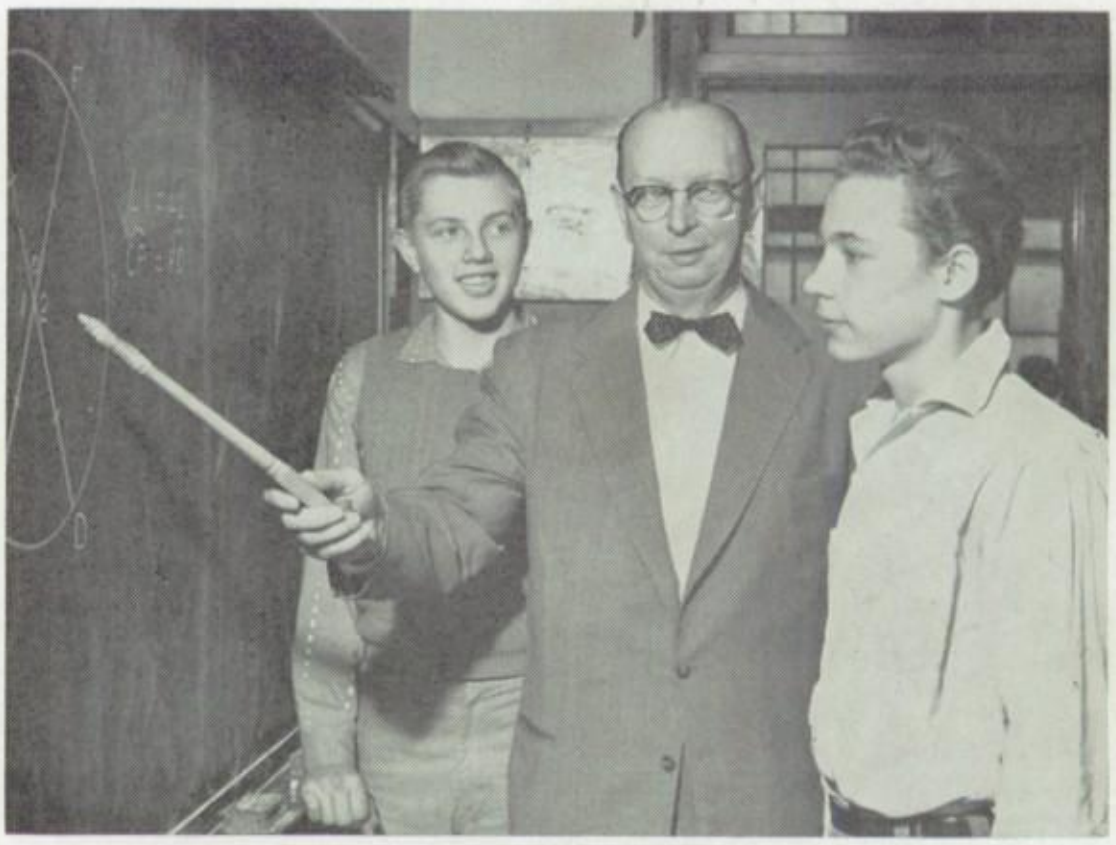
WITH ITS ENROLLMENT of over five thousand eight hundred boys and with a staff of three hundred and fifty men and women, Lane is truly a city. A city has its local government; so does Lane. Its Student Council serves as the legislative, the Student Court as its judicial system; the traffic engineers and hallguards have been instituted to protect the property and to provide for the safety of all.

Each city has doctors, nurses, psychologists, librarians, carpenters, electricians, glaziers, engineers, policemen, and maintenance departments to care for the needs of the inhabitants. All this Lane has also.

Lane's corridors and campus resemble the parks of a city. Its art rooms, its library, its music rooms provide for the cultural and aesthetic needs. The gymnasiums, football fields, baseball diamonds, track, and natatorium provide the recreational activities.

A city of any size has a daily newspaper - so does Lane. It has a police department - so does Lane. It has a fire department - so does Lane. It has a health department - so does Lane. Yes, Lane is a city - truly, in every way.

Arthur P. O'Mara, Principal



Dr. O'Mara looks gleeful over a "tough one" on circles, arcs, and central angles. Gary King (right) will come up with the right answer, of course. Donald Nelson is smiling, but his turn may be next.

Helping run Lane with efficient dispatch, the secretaries play a vital role in our administration.

In our spacious office, business is performed with dispatch. Busy, busy, busy are secretaries: Miss Buckley, left, Mrs. Kenngott, center; Mrs. Scully, front; and Miss Reynolds at counter.

Left. Switchboard calls come constantly into the bustling city that is Lane, and Mrs. Scully courteously connects all parties.

Right. Finances! All club treasurers must square their accounts through Mrs. Pawell, who checks to the last mill.

We Remember

FRANK MAGILNER

IN QUIETUDE he lived, ever gentle Mr. Magilner; quietly and suddenly he died on March 6, 1957. Always had he radiated good will; in his soft-spoken words were couched his kindly forbearance, his cultured and refined sensibilities. Here was a man who could ease a heart and comfort a friend.

Mr. Magilner taught more than history at Lane; he taught, by creed and by practice, brotherly love, in the spirit of which the history he taught became a universal background for the kinship of man. Rich beneath the surface of his calm mien ran veins of understanding, fellow feeling, charity; yet his subtle, merry sense of humor twinkled from his eyes. Almost without words he gave balm to the spirit. How fortunate were those who knew him! His family is indeed bereft. Dearly he loved his three little grandchildren - surely his good way of life must be implanted in their hearts after so close a contact with their beloved "grand-daddy".

JOHN G. PALKA

FOR YEARS one steadying influence upon which Lane had leaned with confidence was Mr. John G. Palka; and when, on December 30, 1956, he left us, to return no more, both the faculty and the student body felt tragically bereft of a faithful friend.

Stalwart of conscience, he sought, ever, the right; and he had the hardihood to pursue it unflinchingly, unselfishly. He was a truly good man, with a resistless vigor of personality which influenced for the better all those who knew him. He was fair, he was understanding, and so, in the several positions which he had held during his years at Lane - drawing teacher, executive, administrator - he became a comforting lodestar to guide us aright.

Mr. Palka was an intensely loyal man - loyal to his work, to his friends, to his own ideals. For his family he reserved a very special pride and a warm devotion; his happiness was intrinsically bound with theirs. Their loss, and ours, are irreplaceable.

MAX KROP

SO BRIEF the years he lived, this science teacher with the soul of an artist and the heart of a friend. Mr. Krop died on January 21, 1957; so gentle and assuming had he been that it was as if he stole quietly from our lives during the night with hardly a goodbye.

To him life had seemed beautiful, and he wished to invest it with peace and good will. Thus, in his sincere and pensive way, he lived his life in keeping with that precept of beauty which had been his creed.

His debonair presence in the long reaches of Lane will always be a wistful memory to his pupils, who adored him; to the faculty, who felt his sensitive, eager nature. We reach out in sympathy to his devoted and loving relatives, and to his bride of but a few years, to tell them that we too partake of the bitter-sweet sorrow of their loss.

SENIORS

Becoming an alumnus is a big step, but the Seniors take it without faltering.

CLASS PRESIDENT

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

My Fellow Classmates:

Four years ago Lane opened her doors to you, and you became a part of the traditions and ideals of this fine school.

Now you are leaving and others will take your place. Lane will miss you. Yet in a very real sense you will still be here. The things you have done, both in the classrooms and on the athletic field, will never be forgotten. No door has been closed to you, no opportunity denied you by the faculty, whose reaching and guidance have been an inspiration to all.

I know that you will go far. In this changing world you will all have new and undreamed of difficulties to overcome, but wherever you are, whatever you do, I hope that the bit of Lane which has become a part of you will enable you to face the situation cheerfully, courageously, and intelligently; to meet and greet your fellow men fairly and wisely.

In closing, I would like to thank you, my classmates, for selecting me as class president, and to thank the class officers and committee chairmen for their fine co-operation during the various class functions.

God bless you all.

Math is the cornerstone of a technical education

THE MATHEMATICS DEPARTMENT

THE MASSIVE NEEDLE stands tremoring on its end fins . . . a torrid eruption and up, up it goes, piercing the firmament! And what has this missile test to do with the Math Department? Ever try to put anything together? Out comes the old ruler . . . and pencil (and eraser). Well, that isn't all there is to it; there are the protractors and the compasses and the dozen other gadgets we seldom see . . . and a myriad of rules and formulas we never use. All this is what's putting that good old rocket in the air. With our technical world as it is today, and with prospects yet greater for tomorrow, there will be no end to the progress and achievement the Math-Man will make!

Ability to speak in other languages profits the student

LANGUAGE DEPARTMENT

THE YEN for travel can be almost realized by those arm-chair linquists who learn, right here in Lane's own language department, not only the language but also the customs of foreign countries. This helps to create among the citizens of Lane an understanding of other peoples.

Languages taught here are Latin, German, Spanish, and Polish. These classes are supplemented by language clubs, which together bring closer to home such marvels as the great Coliseum of Rome, the castles and industry of Germany, the famous bull-fighting rings of Spain, and the great arts and freedom of Poland.

Much of the credit for these activities goes to Miss Mazur, the Department Head, whose enthusiasm, together with the vitality of the other fine teachers, makes foreign language study an outstanding feature of Lane.

ART DEPARTMENT

EVERY CITY needs its builders, those who make the skyscrapers rise, the concrete flow, and the air ring with the sounds of their toil. Others are needed, though, who can add freshness and inspiration to long, weary days. Yes, every city needs its artists - "builders" of beauty.

We at Lane are no exception. From well-lighted, modern "art studios" flow illustrations, posters, and paintings to brighten the Laneites' days. Working in an informal atmosphere, under the zealous supervision of Mr. Young, Mr. Topp, Mr. Walz, and Mr. Szalinski, the artists of Lane distinguish themselves in national contests and gain such class honors as "Masterpiece of the Week" and "Sketches of the Week". Their work in the Tech Prep and Annual alone demonstrates the value of these "builders" in the makeup of our "city."

THE LANE CHORUS

ADAGIO! DIMINUENDO! FORTE! VIVACE! These words, although unfamiliar to the layman, are heard and executed by the boys of one part of the entertainment section of the city of Lane, the Lane Chorus.

Most of the members of the chorus know little about singing when they first enter, but they leave it singing like Crosbys and Sinatras. Under the direction of Mr. Lombardo, the Chorus has thrilled many an audience and as a result has made a straight "S" rating in the City Choral Competitions. This is due to the sure and vigorous direction of Mr. Lombardo and the tremendous spirit exerted by the boys.

Mr. Lombardo

During the Christmas program the listeners were thrilled by the new branch of the chorus, the Boys' Soprano Choir, which promises to be as wonderful as the present Male Chorus.

SYMPHONY ORCHESTRA

THE ABILITY to master a musical instrument must be a very satisfying gift, along with being a major accomplishment. 'Tis an art indeed. Aware of this, the boys in the Lane Symphony Orchestra have striven to enrich the lives of all - students, admiring visitors, and supporting faculty. Under the direction of Mr. Schneider and his baton, the orchestra magnificently reproduces the works of the great masters. The genius of men like Rossini, Tchaikovsky, and Beethoven is sincerely interpreted in their works by our fine musicians. Laneites hold a deep measure of gratitude to the Symphony Orchestra for being so representative of their school spirit.

CONCERT BAND

MUCH of Lane's fame is derived from its fine organizations. The Lane concert Band is recognized throughout the nation for its excellence. The magnificence and quality of its interpretation has earned for it a respectful place in the minds of the admiring throngs. Under Captain Huff, the boys combine enthusiasm with school spirit to attain the ultimate goal - musical perfection.

ENGLISH DEPARTMENT

THE FOUNDATION of Lane's course of study is the English Department. The ability to convey one's thoughts accurately and intelligently is a fundamental requirement in any department or subject.

Once the fundamentals have been conquered, the English student furthers his knowlege by engaging in literature, oral composition,writing, and spelling, which are bricks that complete the structure of the student's English education.

Miss Youngquist, the Head of the Department, unites her efforts with the English teachers' to make the course most desirable for the students.

No boy remains handicapped in Lane's Deaf-Oral Department

Mrs. Skinner

HAPPY BOYS are well adjusted boys, and that is one of the reasons we have a Deaf-Oral Department at Lane. It helps the deaf and hard-of-hearing students to adjust to their handicaps without feeling sorry for themselves.

In addition to their regular classroom activities, the deaf and hard-of-hearing students are given lip-reading, which trains them to make better use of their eyes, and partake of auricular training with the group hearing aid to improve their speech and voices.

You will find these boys in most of the extracurricular activities at Lane. They are full of enthusiasm for sports and give the other divisions some keen competition.

For all these benefits the boys are especially grateful to the two dedicated teachers, Mrs. Jones and Mrs. Skinner, who are specialists in the work of training the deaf-oral.

SCIENCE DEPARTMENT

CONSTANT RESEARCH is essential to the operation of our persent mechanical society and will soon become even more important as the world yields to automation. The Science Department at Lane prepares a student for a world in which science will be the major field. He is first introduced to the general aims and methods of science and is given a general outlook on most of its specific fields. He then may choose to study the intricate anatomy and physiology of life. The student then passes on the study of the physical actions of the universe, and finally to the chemistry of our universe and of life. Thus, a Lane graduate is well prepared to take his place among the ranks of scientists who have created that way of life in which he is now so desperately needed.

SOCIAL STUDIES DEPARTMENT

FREEDOM is ours, and the Laneite appreciates this liberty. He strives to learn the ideals that will keep him free. He studies World and United States History, both of which deal with the struggle of man to survive and the progress which he has made over the centuries.

Too, the Laneite in his Senior year studies Civics. It is a specialized field dealing with the structure and purpose of our government.

All in all, social studies help the Laneite to understand his government and to appreciate his freedom. It inspires him to keep his government strong as he strives for life, liberty, and the pursuit of happiness.

SHOP DEPARTMENT

WITH THE COMING of the Age of Automation comes increased interest in engineering and the sciences. People tend to forget the men behind the scenes who actually build the monster machines which now control many of our factories and play an everyday part in our lives. Lane's shop department, under the able leadership of Mr. Straka, is well equipped to give students the experience necessary to face the great task lying before them: to construct the great devices designed by the engineers, and to build them RIGHT.

DRAWING DEPARTMENT

DRAWING BOARD, T-square, shield, protractor, dividers — these are but a few of the instruments used by the Lane "doctors" of drawing. Just as patience, neatness, and accuracy are required of a doctor, so are these same qualities required by the junior architects and draftsmen of our industrious city, Lane Tech. For where would the Laneites be who plan to follow in Frank Lloyd Wright's footsteps if they couldn't cope with these important essentials? How could they draw a mile-high skyscraper or another Lane Tech? Or how could they ever draw the plans for another Hoover Dam or rocket ship? Yet through the diligent instruction of our drawing teachers, the right road to attain these goals is laid before them.

Writing, drawing, 'n' printing make good reading

TECH PREP

SIXTEEN MEN times forty minutes times forty weeks equals 426 man hours. That's how many hours it took the sixteen Tech Prep Staff members to get out the publications (Annual and two Tech Preps) this year. The fellows have worked very hard to turn out enjoyable and informative publications. Many pieces of typing paper have been put into the typewriter, and countless scores of words were written upon them. Often tempers flared and the paper was madly torn out, only to be replaced by another one in the hope of getting better results. Thus, a never-ending symphony goes on in room 443D.

LANE DAILY

OUR CITY needs a newspaper, and the "Daily" satisfies Lane's varied needs well. It provides that means of communication so much needed between the individual student and the school as a whole. The "Daily" provides a forum for the different poles of thought in our school, it informs its readers of important events in the future, it spreads the daily news to the far corners of Lane, it provides a liaison between the student and the teacher, and it gives the individual an idea of his place in the general scheme of things.

To provide such varied fare needs organization, which is accomplished by the seven specialized editors and the chief editors with the help of the ever-busy sponsors, Mr. Morrissey and Mr. Kuecker. With Dennis Spice as Editor-in-Chief and Gerald Wolin the Associate Editor, the "Daily" is forging ahead with more news and illustrations than ever, to be a literary mirror of Lane.

MASK AND SHEARS

THEN the Mask and Shears performs each semester, the audience sees a smooth, polished performance; what they do not see on "'Opening Night" is the hard work that has gone into the production. Unnoticed are the long hours of toil of the patient Mr. Sotter, tht club sponsor, and of his ever-helpful assistants, Mr. Walter and Miss Connolly.

Even before the actual rehearsing begins, about fourteen weeks before the play is scheduled, the actors are cast for their parts so that their particular talents will be used to the best advantage.

When the weeks of rehearsal end, and it is time for the show to begin, who would believe that these future Barrymores, their parts down pat, were just untrained actors a short time before?

L.U.F.T.O.A.

FOR BOYS with the courage to teach, the Lane Unit of Future Teachers of America exerts an appeal. Its members learn to be prospective teachers by helping their fellow students now. Many of the boys come zero period to coach students deficient in some area of their school work. This particular branch of LUFTOA is known as the Owls' Club.

If emergencies arise, the boys act as substitute teachers. Mrs. Rueben and Mr. Ehrlich, the sponsors, are interested primarily in producing good future teachers, but even if fate has some other vocation in store for these boys, they will still have much to be thankful for, because in the process of learning to become teachers, they learn patience, working with others, leadership, and intolerance.

THE KEY CLUB

"WE BUILD.!" This is the motto of the Key Club at Lane and at the various other high schools in Chicago. True to this motto, Lane's Key Club has fullfilled its meaning by serving the school and community. The club has held projects for the raising of funds for needy organizations and has helped the city perform several campaigns for helping youth. During the past school year the club was responsible for a number of projects: redecorating an orphanage; holding a dance, the proceeds of which went to the remodeling of our parking lot; selling peanuts on Kiwanis Kids Day; playing hosts to important visitors at Lane; and many more worthwhile projects. The club is under the advisorship of Mr. Royal S. Browne, who has devoted his spare time to the guidance of the projects of the club.

CLASS PRESIDENT

JAMES COWLEY

James was born on January 12, 1940. After graduation from the Moos Elementary School, he enrolled in Lane. Immediately he became interested in sports and joined the Football Team, on which he played for four years. He was also active in Intramural Sports, the Ice Skating Team, and the Lettermen's Club. He was a 4A Architect.

After graduation he plans to go to college.

PRESIDENT'S MESSAGE

MY FELLOW CLASSMATES:

We have looked forward to our day of graduation for four years. It has been one of the many goals we have set out to achieve. The time has arrived all too soon, and we find ourselves a little choked with emotions. We experience not only the joy of graduation, but also the sadness of leaving Lane.

We can never forget the many happy experiences we enjoyed at the "School of Champions" – experiences we will carry with us for a life time. We have learned to work side by side with our fellow classmates without regard to religion, race or nationality. This is of utmost importance today, for when we go out into the world with our ideals and our beliefs, our foremost purpose must be to live together happily and in a world of peace.

Our class has contributed much to uphold the honor of Lane. We have proven ourselves champions on the athletic field and in scholastic work, and we have tried sincerely to co-operate in all school affairs. Some of us will seek further education in college, others will enter many different walks of life, but the spirit and honor of Lane will always be our guidance.

We must never forget the unlimited help and guidance given us by our faculty and parents. They have guided us along the path of success and honor. Also speaking for the class officers and committee chairmen, as well as for myself, I would like to express our gratitude and thank you for giving us the privilege and honor of acting as your spokesmen. I sincerely hope the future will hold success and happiness for you all. May God bless you and guide you on your way.

R.O.T.C. OFFICERS

EIGHT HUNDRED R.O.T.C. cadets are not easy to train; therefore a competent staff of officers has been diligently selected by the military instructors to aid them in this feat. Headed by Cadet Col. Glen Thorson, this staff meets every Thurday to discuss the latest strategy for educating the cadets of Lane. So the Lane army marches on with a qualified staff to lead them.

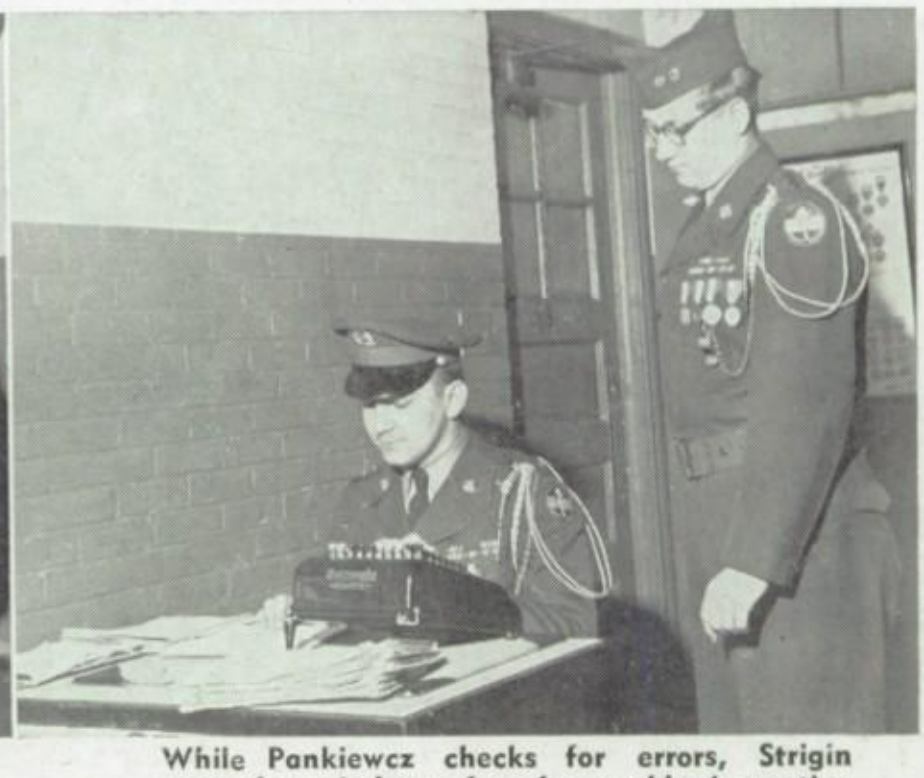
REGIMENTAL STAFFS

DEEP in Room 036 works the Regimental Staffs. The constant hum of work, the clerical life-blood of the R.O.T.C., the tic-tic-tic-zoom bam of the typewriters, a throaty laugh breaking the monotony, the sigh of relief as another paper is done, all these pour out of 036. Every forty minutes there is another pulse; eleven times a day the heart of the R.O.T.C. beats.

At the Federal Inspection this spring the Regimental Staffs led the review, a position they well deserve. Those cadets leading the review were S-1's Lt. George Stephen and his assistants, M/Sgt. Jacobsen and Cpl. Kaufmann; S-2's Capt. Jorgensen and Cpl. Nasuta; S-3's Major Valleux and Lt. Dmuchowski and the S-4's Major Tiedemann and Capt. Molnar. This is the Regimental Staff of the R.O.T.C.

Strigin and Kaufman help Wacek file a report.



While Pankiewcz checks for errors, Strigin uses the tabulator for the weekly inspection sheets.

Lane hearts leap with pride at the sight of the flag

COLOR GUARD

A VERY SMALL but very important unit in the Lane R. O. T. C. is its color guard. They are present at all formations, and they daily raise and lower the flag in front of the school. Yes, believe it or not, while some of the city sleeps, four boys are in front of Lane hoisting the Stars and Stripes.

Have you ever wondered where boys got their special training? Thanks to "Sarge" (M/Sgt. Martin), who supervises the instruction given by cadet officers, the color guard manages to have four topnotch strings ready for immediate action.

There is also an excellently engineered training program going on for Freshmen. So, all in all, Lane has an infallible staff to take care of the flag.

"Right shoulder arms!" commands the string commander.

Marksmanship and ambition contribute to our champion rating

RIFLE TEAM

"KNOCK OUT those bulls, boys. You all know how!" And with these words M/Sgt. Kuhlman, sponsor of the Lane Rifle Team, sent forth Lane's expert marksmen to take District and City Competitions. They did take it, and have the trophies to prove it, too! This, however, was nothing new for this Rifle Team, as they have taken "City" eight times in the past since 1926, when the competition was organized. Behind all of these winnings is the constant practice the team goes through under the experienced, patient eyes of their sponsor, Sgt. Kuhlman.

Other outstanding matches fired during the '56-'57 season were the inter-school matches (in which they broke all previous records for any school by firing an amazing 932 out of a possible 1,000), and the Hearst Trophy, Fifth Army, and National Intercollegiate matches, from all three of which this team walked off with high honors. One need only take a look at the ROTC trophy case to see evidence, in the form of plaques, scrolls, and trophy cups, of the innumerable previous times when the Lane Rifle Team went out and brought back the honors.

Molar adjusts Krause's position as he prepares to fire.

Three battalions, seven companies contributing their picked cadets, thirty-one crack cadets, one crack platoon. This is the exhibition platoon of the R.O.T.C.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

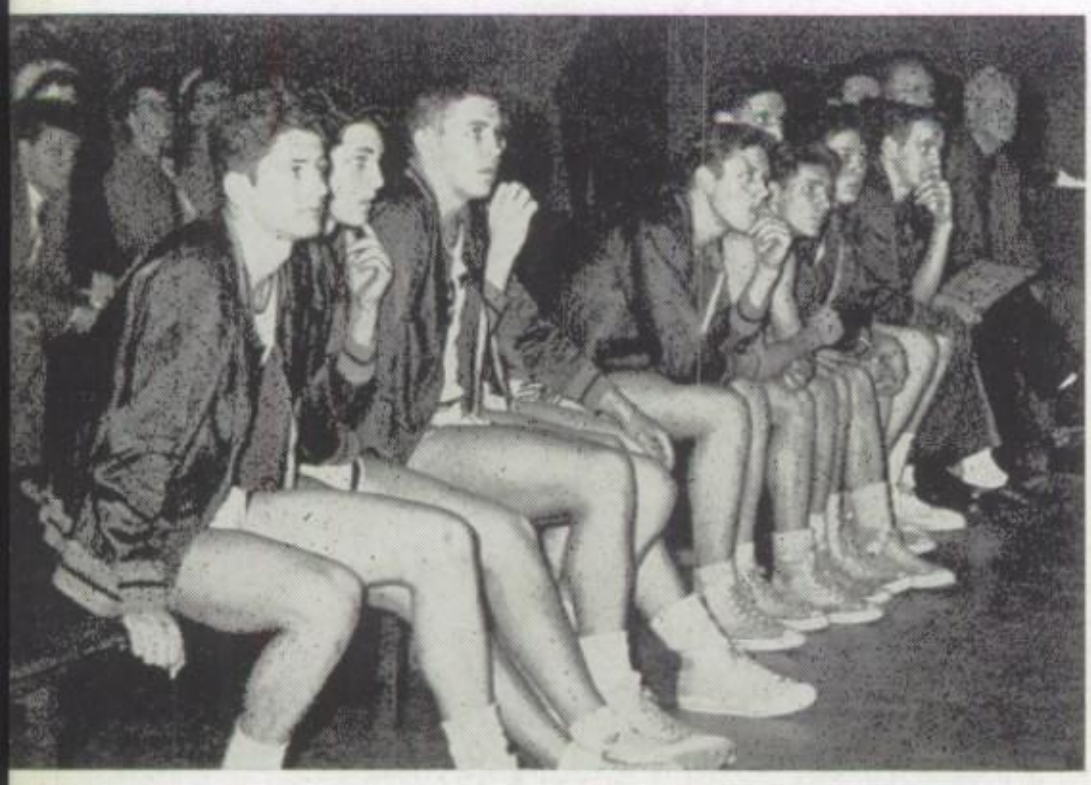
THE STACCATO of a basketball being dribbled across a hardwood floor, the swish of a perfectly executed shot, the encouraging yell of a teammate amid the cheers of the crowd . . . . . all these things indicate another season of basketball in the School of Champions.

After a very successful season the Bucketmen look back at their string of victories, which unfortunately was cut short by Parker in the semifinals. Nevertheless, this has been one of Lane's most successful seasons with ten wins and one loss as well as the acquisition of the title of Section Champs. Coach Schaefer can certainly be congratulated for the team he fielded this season at the climax of his career as basketball coach, for it has been one of Lane's very best.



Mr. Schaefer

A tense moment on the court holds the attention of the team.

FROSH-SOPH BASKETBALL

STRIVING FOR individual perfection and team work to the nth degree, the Frosh - Soph Basketball Team has reached an almost satisfying goal this season. They have played in hard and rough games and have reached the finals. Although they were eliminated by Hirsch, they have gained valuable experience that will make them champions in their succeeding years at Lane.

Sinking the basket is not the only goal in mind. The team concentrates on proper technique and game strategy. Every boy is watched, helped, and urged on by the expert knowledge of Coach Buchanan. At the rate the team is progressing now, we will be sure to hear big things from it in the future.

Mr. Buchanan

SWIM TEAM

STROKE AFTER STROKE the Lane Mermen approach the coveted city title. Will they make it or will another school forge ahead to take the crown? Lane's past record would indicate that they will again emerge victorious, an assertion that will readily be borne out by any spectator.

After twenty lengths of kicking, another twenty stroking, and sprints after that, the swimmers have completed another workout. To reach top condition takes at least a semester of training, and plenty of hard work to stay that way. Coach Swensen sees to it that the boys get plenty of this training and is largely responsible for their fine condition. Not only are speed and stamina important but also correct form and plenty of that "will-to-win". The Lane tankmen possess all these qualities, and this fact shows itself best in the results of the meets, as the tank dwellers strive to bring victory to Lane, their "home town".

Hurdling, sprinting, and relay work appear to be the order of the day as Cindermen Marzec, Stawnoba, Norwood, Kawada, Moroz, Meltreger, and Wolf practice in Lane's halls.

TRACK

WITH THE INDOOR TRACK season completed, Lane came out with favorable positions in the City Meet in both Juniors and Seniors. The Seniors placed third and held one City Championship.

The Juniors came out a little better, taking City in the Shot-put. They also claimed the 440, and swept the field in the 880. Thus they rated a second place position.

Tryouts showed a large turn out, from which several prospects who look good were chosen. The future looks very bright for the Track Team, especially the Juniors.

He is enjoying one of the world's most popular and relaxing sports, golf, which was invented in Scotland. He is also lucky enough to receive Coach Buchanan's expert guidance.

THE BOWLING TEAM

BOWLING BALLS roll and pins fly as the topnotch maple splitters at Lane find the groove and get their strikes. Our team this year consists of the best bowlers of a twelve-game tournament, which was held this spring. For those interested in bowling, there is a bowling club which supplies the Lane team with most of its members.

BASEBALL

BASEBALL, which is our national pastime, is perhaps the sport in which Lane has fared best. Down through the years our representatives in Abner Doubleday's sport have won more city baseball championships than any other school. Although last year's squad failed to win the city title, they proved themselves the best team in the state of Illinois when they invaded Peoria and walked off with the State Championship baseball trophy.

In the 1957 team Lane's master strategist, Coach Wallenta, has a squad loaded with veterans. Five of last year's first string are returning to their stations of battle in the Public League this year.

Mr. Wallenta

Although the weather was bad, the Baseball Team managed to get in a little practice between blizzards.

FOOTBALL

IF A TROPHY were given to the most consistent football power in the Chicago Public League, there could be but one choice - Lane Tech. It is a fact that Lane has entered into the finals annually since the method of separating teams into the Red, White, and Blue Divisions was initiated.

This coming season the Varsity Football Team, which is very capably handled by Coaches Manasin and Labant, will again be shooting for their first Public League championship since 1950. This year's team seems to be another with the spirit and will to win. They have enough new players and veterans to give them depth and skill, and to make them an interesting team to watch. If the breaks come their way, there is no reason why they shouldn't do as well as, or even better than their predecessors.

The Austin game was highlighted by hard tackling and shifty running.

SOCCER TEAM

ALTHOUGH the activities of the Soccer Team this semester consisted only of tryouts and spring practice, not competition, last semester's games were something to talk about.

During the season, Lane was undefeated with a record of 9-0. In the City League, there was not much competition except from Schurz, whose team was able to put up a fairly good fight for the first half, although they lacked strength during the second half. Seeking out better teams, Lane went to Chicago's suburbs. Oak Park and Morton were played twice each, but our Ironheads outscored both of these teams by large margins. The results of the season was another State Championship for the "School of Champions".

When asked his opinion, Coach McDade said that the outlook for the future was good. This is because of next semester's all-Senior team, which is exceptionally strong due to the relentless efforts of their devoted Coach.
